

Diabetes Education

When someone is diagnosed with having diabetes, it is simply that person's body saying it is time to eat HEALTHIER. Each person has individual nutritional needs and with the help of your doctors and nutritionist you can come up with a meal plan that won't leave you hungry and will help you control your blood glucose levels.

What Is A Healthy Diet?

A healthy diet is a way of eating that REDUCES risk for complications such as heart disease and stroke. Healthy eating consists of eating a wide variety of foods including vegetables, whole grains, fruits, non-fat dairy products, beans, lean meats, poultry and fish.

There is no one perfect food so including a VARIETY of different foods and watching portion sizes is key to a healthy diet.

What Is A Diabetes Meal Plan?

People with diabetes have to take extra care to make sure that their food is balanced with insulin and oral medications, as well as exercise to help manage their blood glucose levels.

This might sound like a lot of work, but your doctor and/or dietitian can help you create a MEAL PLAN that is best for you. When you make healthy food choices, you will improve your overall health and you can even prevent or delay complications like heart disease, some cancers, and hypertension.
